Mount Kigali is not a mountain as much as the name suggests but is comprised more of hill and stones with human settlements which changed its wilderness state. There are a number of houses that you may meet on your walk uphill. Mount Kigali is a simple hike that will not require you to strain as much as the other mountain hikes. This is a one day hike or rather walk up hill with stunning views of the Kigali city at different points and you can complete this activity in a few hours depending on your physical capability. The Kigali city lies in between the Mount Kigali and the Mount Jali.
