

Society for Conservation Biology

20th Annual Meeting • San Jose, California, USA • 2006

Conservation Without Borders

The 20th annual meeting of the Society for Conservation Biology, Conservation Without Borders, welcomes financial or in-kind contributions from any public or private entity or individual.

Contributions will be used to support the mission of SCB and the objectives of the 2006 meeting. Examples include but are not limited to

- defraying meeting registration, travel, and other expenses for graduate students and professionals in countries not defined as high-income by the World Bank
- supporting participation, instruction, and materials associated with short courses and workshops, which are geared primarily toward training of conservation practitioners and graduate students
- supporting symposia or sessions devoted to particular conservation themes
- defraying meeting registration and support services for members of the media

SCB is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization incorporated in California.

Sponsorship level ($US)

High-income countries ¹	All other countries	Benefits
$500–1999	$250–999	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• acknowledgment in meeting program, Web site, and printed promotional materials
$2000–4999	$1000–2499	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• acknowledgment in meeting program, Web site, and printed promotional materials• quarter-page advertisement in meeting program
$5000–9999	$2500–4999	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• acknowledgment in meeting program, Web site, and printed promotional materials• half-page advertisement in meeting program• 25% discount on exhibition booth• five 50% discounts on registration (all scientific program events and receptions)
$10,000–24,999	$5000–12,499	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• acknowledgment in meeting program, Web site, and printed promotional materials• full-page advertisement in meeting program• 50% discount on exhibition booth• two free passes to all scientific program events and receptions• five 50% discounts on registration (all scientific program events and receptions)
$25,000–49,999	$12,500–24,999	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• acknowledgment in meeting program, Web site, and printed promotional materials• full-page advertisement in meeting program• complimentary exhibition booth• two free passes to all scientific program events and receptions• five 50% discounts on registration (all scientific program events and receptions)• acknowledgment in meeting advertisements in SCB's journals (Conservation Biology, Conservation In Practice, Pacific Conservation Biology)

$50,000–

$25,000–

- acknowledgment in meeting program, Web site, and printed promotional materials
- full-page advertisement in meeting program
- complimentary exhibition booth
- five free passes to all scientific program events and receptions
- five 50% discounts on registration (all scientific program events and receptions)
- acknowledgment in meeting advertisements in SCB's journals (Conservation Biology, Conservation In Practice, Pacific Conservation Biology)
- half-page advertisement in SCB's newsletter

¹ As defined by the World Bank; a list of high-income countries is linked to www.conbio.org/membership

For more information on the 2006 annual meeting and opportunities for participation and sponsorship, please contact

Erica Fleishman, Chair, Steering Committee
Center for Conservation Biology
Department of Biological Sciences
Stanford University
Stanford, CA 94305-5020, USA
(650) 725-9914 • FAX (650) 723-5920
2006@conbio.org • www.conservaionbiology.org/2006

For more information on SCB's mission and activities, please contact

Society for Conservation Biology
4245 N. Fairfax Drive, Suite 400
Arlington, VA 22203-1651, USA
(703) 276-2384 • FAX (703) 995-4633
info@conbio.org
www.conservaionbiology.org